The Mona Lisa or La Gioconda is a half-length portrait of a woman by the Italian Renaissance artist Leonardo da Vinci, which has been described as "the best known, the most visited, the most written about, the most sung about, the most parodied work of art in the world". The painting, thought to be a portrait of Lisa Gherardini, the wife of Francesco del Giocondo, is believed to have been painted between 1503 and 1506.

A handwritten signature in black ink, consisting of a long, sweeping stroke followed by a series of loops and a final flourish.
